

Philosophy & Values

Since 1968, Quality Custom Cabinetry, Inc. (QCCI) has been a family-owned business located in the heart of Pennsylvania Dutch Country of Lancaster County, in New Holland, Pennsylvania. QCCI values the people who supply us with services and materials: you as a prospective employee, our dealers and all the customers who actually receive the cabinetry and who truly believe in the continued future success of QCCI.

QCCI manufactures high-end custom cabinetry for the residential home and for businesses alike. Our products are dispersed through a network of independent dealers throughout the United States from coast to coast. If you would like to see examples of some of our cabinetry, you may either stop by at our local showroom at Bareville Design on main street in Leola or check us out on the web at www.qcc.com.

We understand that our employees are our greatest asset. Our principle goal is to provide opportunities for each employee to reach his/her greatest potential in his/her career at QCCI. We will continue to look for prospective employees who may be developed daily to fit the needs of QCCI. We endeavor to look for those prospective employees who are willing to provide a positive outlook toward others and are motivated to provide the best quality in finished product. If you would like to learn more about future opportunities to become a part of our growing QCCI family, please apply in person at our office located at 125 Peters Rd. in New Holland, PA or for directions, contact the human resource department at QCCI at (717)661-6900.
